Transparency. Efficacy.

Dosages with Therapeutic Impact.

Many doctors understand the need for a multivitamin as an "insurance policy" to help bolster the American diet. Research indicates that taking a good multivitamin can compensate for dietary nutrient deficiencies or nutrient depletion. With an MSRP of $49.90, for $1.66 a day (less than a cup of coffee), you can ensure you are being protected, with two easy to swallow, mint-coated tablets providing a therapeutic dose.
